Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-9 are allowable over prior art.

2. The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter based on Applicant's Amendment filed on November 5, 2007:

As in claim 1, the prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest a crosstalk cancellation means having the following features:

(a) crosstalk cancellers of plural channels for generating pseudo crosstalk signals of respective channels on the basis of the reproduction signals and the cause signals of respective channels which are read out from tan extension bit or bits of the memory means of plural channels to cancel crosstalk signals included in the reproduction signals of respective channels; and

(b) in a reproducing system, there are obtained reproduction signals of plural channels in which crosstalk signals have been cancelled every channel by the crosstalk cancellers of plural channels.

As in claim 9, the prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest a crosstalk cancellation method having the following steps:

(a) distributing reproduction signals obtained from the recording medium to plural channels to store them into memory means of plural channels, and distributing cause signals of crosstalk signals included in the reproduction signals obtained from the recording medium to plural channels to store them into memory means of plural channels; and

(b) generating pseudo crosstalk signals of respective channels on the basis of reproduction signals and cause signals of respective channels which are read out from the memory means of plural channels to cancel, every channel, crosstalk signals included in the reproduction signals of respective channels.

The features indicated above, in combination with the other elements of the claims, are not anticipated by, nor made obvious over, the prior art of record.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the Issue Fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the Issue Fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
